

Happy
birthday
to you

The image features a central calligraphic message in a cursive script. The text is arranged in three lines: "Happy", "birthday", and "to you". The letters are rendered in a gradient of gold and white, with the gold being more prominent in the upper and middle sections and transitioning to white in the lower sections. The text is framed by intricate, flowing flourishes that swirl around the words. Several small, four-pointed white stars are scattered throughout the composition, adding a celebratory touch. The entire design is set against a solid black background, which makes the gold and white elements stand out sharply.